

Call for Part-time Lecturers

The International University of Sarajevo is an English-language teaching institution. The Department of Economics and Management at the Faculty of Business and Administration consists of three programs: Economics, International Business and Finance, and Management.

Currently, we are looking to expand the pool of possible collaborators (part-time with possibility for longer engagement) for Spring and Fall semesters of 2026. We seek applicants with Ph.D. degrees from an internationally recognized university and teaching and research interests in any business-related field.

Rank and contract-based compensation will reflect experience and qualifications.

All applicants are kindly requested to submit their application via the Career at IUS section of the IUS website (<https://www.ius.edu.ba/en/career-ius>) and upload a current CV, a cover letter indicating their field of interest, and teaching and research statements there.

We provide a unique educational setting characterized by academics and students from more than 50 countries. Our commitment to professional development includes access to global conferences and workshops, allowing you to grow and advance in your career. We are committed to equal opportunity and merit-based candidate selection and welcome applications from all suitably qualified people.

The call remains open for 30 days.
